Polls Open From 7-7

Despite some good-natured banter, the chairmen of the Republican and Democratic town committees agreed on one point Monday night - they want the polls to remain open until 7 p.m.

Selectman Philip K. Allen and Jerry Joseph Sullivan, chairmen of the two committees, expressed their strong feelings on the subject to the Board of Selectmen - and promptly received support from that Board.

Town Clerk George Winslow had suggested closing the voting places an hour earlier - at 6 p.m. - so that the counting could begin and possibly be finished by midnight.

However, the Selectmen agreed that, if the two major political committees felt strongly on the subject, the polls should remain open as usual.

Hearing On Land Taking

A public hearing on the seizure of the John L. Noyes property on Lovejoy rd. for a school site may be held in two weeks.

The Selectmen, concerned that the law may require the hearing because the land may be agricultural, would not sign the order of taking prepared for them by Town Counsel Fredric S. O'Brien.

Instead, they decided to determine whether the hearing can properly be called for Aug. 22, if it is required.

Mr. O'Brien had told the Board that, if the land is agricultural, the owner has a right to a hearing at which he may offer evidence as to the availability of other, non-agricultural, land. The counsel did not specifically state, however, whether Mr. Noyes' property falls in the agricultural designation or not.

Selectman William Stewart feels that it does - and can be easily proven by use over the years. He, along with the members of the

Repairs Soon On Lovejoy Road

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff "hopes" that Lovejoy rd. can be surfaced before winter, according to his statement to the Selectmen Monday night.

He called the Board's attention to the problems involved in getting the street put into proper condition - and indicated that this hinged in part on a Planning Board approval of a sub-division plan in the area.

Duff said the Realty Construction Co. has two catch basins to install on Lovejoy rd., at the intersection with a street into the sub-division. This can not be done until the plan is approved.

Only after this construction takes place can the road be surfaced, he stated. The realty firm, developers in the neighborhood, have agreed to put one coat of asphalt on the surface. The town will put the final coat on, completing the project.

Duff explained that the firm has no written obligation to do anything

POLLS OPEN

Mr. Winslow explained to the Board that a new state law prohibits counting ballots by blocks of 50 during the day - thus all the work must be done after the polls close. His suggestion would not seriously handicap anyone who wishes to vote, the veteran town official asserted, because the polls are open at 7 a.m. and persons could vote before going to work.

However, the political strategists of both parties felt that many persons may leave for work prior to 7 a.m. and return on or about 6 p.m., giving them no chance to cast their ballots.

The hours set Monday apply to the September 13 primary, but presumably will be the same for the November election.

more to the street, thus the agreement now existing is not necessarily binding. But he said he is certain that it will be followed, once the sub-division plan is approved.

Members of the Board wondered whether the manager might not get the Planning Board to hurry the consideration, so that work can begin.

They called attention to the bad condition of the road, and to the length of time that it has been that way.

Duff agreed to seek a determination of the plan's status and to do everything possible to get the work started. He indicated his "hopes" that the work can be done by winter when asked whether this is a probability.

LAST REGISTRATION
DATE IS TOMORROW

The last chance to register for those residents not on the voting lists will be given tomorrow, at the town hall.

The registrars will be at the town office building from noon until 10 p.m.

Those unregistered by that closing time will be unable to vote in the Sept. 13 primary. Other registrations will be held late in September and early October prior to the national and state elections in November.

Easement Pattern Has Been Set

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff has hailed an arrangement between private interests to straighten out drainage problems in West Center Acres as a precedent for the future. He spoke specially of the agreement by the Schlott interests to obtain an easement from Fred Doyle, an abutting property owner, for off-site drainage.

This particular problem - who will obtain easements for this type of work - has plagued the Board of Selectmen before. And there had been no hard and fast decision on it.

Now, according to the town manager, a pattern has been set in which the private parties work out this arrangement without the involvement of the town.

In West Center Acres, Camp, Dresser and McKee had told the town that installations were inadequate and prepared a plan to be followed in providing adequate drainage.

Involved is work on a brook running off the development onto adjoining property. In this instance, Duff held a meeting with all the interested individuals and they worked out the details of an arrangement that will see the work done to everyone's satisfaction.

Duff told the Selectmen that the L. C. Cyr Construction Co. and the Schlott interests have agreed on the extent of their individual financial involvement, and that Mr. Doyle had made an agreement on an easement. Other than arranging the meeting, the town did not become involved in the transactions.

Duff said the plan prepared by Camp, Dresser and McKee will be followed, and that firm will check the job occasionally. Engineers for the Cyr Construction Co. have copies of the plans.

Course For Nurses In Home Nursing

Mrs. William Buehner, chairman of Red Cross nursing services, announces that a course to train instructors for home nursing classes will be given in September.

Miss Lillian Reinert, national nursing field representative, will be at the Chapter house on Pynchard ave. for the six evenings of Sept. 13-22 to give the 20-hour course. Registered nurses in Andover and surrounding communities are being urged to volunteer for this training and to assist afterwards in teaching home nursing to laywomen. Nurses who are new to the Red Cross will, upon completion of the course, be eligible to become Red Cross nurses.

Applications for the class are being accepted by Mrs. Buehner at Red Cross headquarters. Anyone interested in the home nursing class which will immediately follow the instructor's course may call the chapter house for more information.

Must Get Nod From Selectmen

Any removal of sand, gravel or loam, from any location in the town, will be subject to approval by the Board of Selectmen under a ruling by town counsel.

Even those persons hauling material over public roads and leaving it on their own property are subject to first explaining the circumstances.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff referred to the ruling Monday night, when he explained to the Selectmen that he had temporarily stopped one such operation late last week.

The legal opinion, written in April, indicates that, although the material is not for sale, the Selectmen may halt the work until shown that this is the case.

Mr. Duff said Sidney P. White was hauling material from one piece of his property to another, and someone telephoned a complaint. Duff had the police department stop the operation, then allowed it to continue when Mr. White's lawyer questioned whether the action was legal in light of the wording of the town by-law. This states that a permit is required for all materials that are for sale.

Later, Mr. Duff said he conferred with Mr. O'Brien's office about the ruling made last spring. This states that the operation must be approved, and mentions that it is the intent of the voters, under the by-law, to control the excavation of materials.

SWIMMING MEET winners, in the 25-yard event, at Pomp's Pond last Saturday afternoon were Linda Stillwell of Methuen, Linda Hawes of Andover, Stanice Gibbs of Methuen and Dianne O'Sullivan of Methuen. The enthusiastic response to the meet indicates that it will become an annual event. Methuen won this year's meet by a wide margin. (Cole)

Stars Will "Shoot" For Late Viewers Tonight

Keep an eye peeled skyward during the next three weeks for the startling display of "shooting stars" known to astronomers as the Perseids shower.

The annual trip earthward of these astronomical visitors can be expected right on schedule, according to the Charles Hayden Planetarium at Boston's Museum of Science.

The Perseids are reaching their peak activity, and by this evening, or early Friday morning Aug. 12, you may be able to count up to a couple of dozen an hour. Ordinarily you could tally more, but this year bright moonlight may blot out some of the shower.

More properly called meteors, most shooting stars are really swarms of tiny particles in space thought to be left-over material from dead or dying comets, the Planetarium says.

Traveling at tremendous speeds (Perseids race at about 137,000 miles per hour), the particles plow into earth's atmosphere with such force they burn up by friction with the air. The resulting streak of light is called a meteor.

If a particle escapes burning and crashes to earth, it's called a meteorite. One of these — a 295-pound chunk of iron and nickel that landed in Arizona — is on display in the Museum's Planetarium lobby.

To get the best view of tonight's display, the Planetarium says, choose an open area away from city glare. This year, especially, light from the moon which will be nearing its last quarter will be competition enough without trying to buck city lights.

Even though you may not be able to count one meteor a minute as you would on a darker night, you should still be able to see a number of spectacularly bright ones, some of them leaving glowing trains that take a second or two to melt away. In general, the later you stay up, the more you'll see. Once you pick out your viewing spot, bring along a deck chair so you can recline comfortably, or a blanket if you choose to sit on the ground. In either case, dress warmly. Despite the sometimes high temperatures of August days, August nights can be cool and damp.

As you look upward, scan the sky just overhead and to the east and south, since most of the meteors travel in those directions. They will seem to be coming from the constellation Perseus the Champion. (They don't really; it's just an illusion caused by perspective.)

Dim your flashlight, if you're carrying one, by covering it with paper or a handkerchief. This helps keep your eyes dark-adapted for a better view of the shooting stars.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Public Attitude Counts

It was with more than normal interest that we reported last week on the search by a prominent industrial realtor for a site for a manufacturer of national reputation.

By the nature of the survey - in that it covered most communities within 40 miles of Boston - it wasn't remarkable that Andover was included.

But of special importance were the remarks of the firm's spokesman, who commented that the firm knows Andover well by virtue of previous explorations here. Another man from the same firm had previously expressed pleasure at finding the town equipped with a water plan covering many future years. This, he said, is unusual, in that many smaller communities have not prepared plans covering possible residential and business growth.

This, of course, is a compliment to those who authorized the study.

But in the larger picture, we feel certain that Andover has been building a good reputation among commercial realtors, who eventually may be able to help the town grow industrially. Even if this current survey is decided in favor of some other location, we have not suffered at all by having the realty people renew their acquaintance with the town.

But even as the town continues to grow in stature in the minds of these professional men, it is possible that residents of the community may, unknowingly, be tearing it down.

This can be done through too frequent criticism of the community; too many complaints from residents about various conditions on their streets; or too many objections to commercial proposals.

It isn't too difficult to imagine a situation in which officers of a corporation might personally check about a community with industrial leaders whose homes or businesses are here.

And if these men, having heard almost constant argument and complaint from residents every time something new is proposed, tell their counterparts that this is a poor town in which to build, our chances for industrial growth are nil.

Over the months it seems that residents from most sections of the town have been complaining about additional traffic on their streets. Even this can discourage potential industry - for it is doubtful whether any business will come into the community without adding a few vehicles to the numbers that already use the public ways.

We need a positive approach to industrial growth - and residents can do a lot to help, by refraining from constant complaint. They should realize that their voices, joining those from other parts of town, may build up to a volume that will be recognized by businessmen as a source of irritation - and a detraction to those who may seek to put their businesses here.

Pathetic Case

The plight of people living on Lovejoy rd. is nothing short of pathetic.

The street is in such poor condition that driving is dangerous in itself - and the dust raised by the traffic must be a housewife's nightmare.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff says Realty Construction Co. has to install two catch basins at the intersection of Lovejoy rd. and a paper-street into the proposed sub-division. Then the firm has agreed to put on the first coat of asphalt. The town will apply the final coat, by agreement with the developer.

According to Duff, the Planning Board is still considering the developer's plan, and the catch basins can't be installed until the plan is approved.

Whatever the reason the arrangements are bogged down, specific and prompt action should be taken to alleviate the road condition.

This public street was in poor condition last fall, was a problem throughout the winter, and now threatens to remain in that condition unless someone initiates speedy action.

We join the residents of the area in the wish that prompt decisions will be followed quickly by the necessary construction.

Boston's Museum of Science says that, contrary to general belief, lightning can strike twice in the same place. In fact, if lightning struck once it's a sure sign it found something to attract it, so it may come back a second time . . . or a third and fourth. Some city skyscrapers have been struck dozens of times.

AT THE LIBRARY

Coming Events

Each Wednesday morning during the summer there will be a story hour for boys and girls at 10:30 o'clock. All ages are cordially invited to attend, since each story hour will include something for each group.

Bookworms are Nibbling

Over 300 boys and girls are now members of the summer reading club at the Memorial Hall Library, and many of them have a surprising number of books recorded on their reading lists. Each one who joins the Bookworm Reading Club signs the large roll kept in the Children's room. After three books have been read, the child is given a small record in which he puts the titles and authors of those books which he has finished.

There is a great scope in subjects which are acceptable as worth while books for credit, and children with a special interest are allowed to read in that field, but encouraged to read at their proper level.

There will be a Bookworm party for all members in the early fall.

Staff On Vacation

Mrs. Margaret Berry, Mrs. Eleanor Plummer, Miss Margaret Manning and Everett Ward of the library staff are enjoying their annual vacation.

Build or Buy?

Here are a few titles that may spur the reader who dallies with the idea of homeowning; whether he buys an old house with good lines and a sagging floor or starts from scratch with a dream on paper, the library can offer real help as he goes along. These books should give a hand: How To Remodel Your Home, American Builder; Wood-Frame House Construction, Anderson; Home Owner's Complete Guide To Remodeling, Cobb; Your Dream House, Cobb; Home Guide To Repair, Upkeep And Remodeling, Crouse; How To Remodel A House, Dalzell; First Aid For The Ailing House, Whitman; Remodeling Guide For Home Interiors, Dalzell; Dwelling House Construction, Dietz; How To Build And Contract Your Own Home, Eisinger; How To Double The Living Space In Your Home, Family Handyman; How-To For Home Owners, Forster; Home Improvements You Can Do, Hochman; Home Improvement Guide, Popular Mechanics Magazine; Data Sheets, Graf; Building Practice Manual, White; Architectural And Building Dictionary, Burke; Concrete Block Construction For Home And Farm, Dalzell; Masonry Simplified, Dalzell; Masonry House; Step by Step Construction in Tile and Brick, Frankl; How To Build Walls, Walks, Patio Floors, Sunset; Plastering Skill And Practice, Van Den Branden; The Art Of Bricklaying, Ray; Set Ceramic Tile Yourself, Raskhodoff; How To Waterproof Your Basement, O'Brien; Fundamentals Of Carpentry, Durbahn; Exterior-Interior Finish For The Small House, Frankl; How To Finish Attics And Basements, Fawcett; Complete Book Of Basement Improvement, Treves; How To Paint And Wallpaper, Hardy; Designs For Living, Ford; Tomorrow's House, Nelson; Plan Your House To Suit Yourself, Rogers; The House For You To Build, Buy Or Rent, Sleeper; House Of Your Dreams, Kirkpatrick; How To Plan A House, Townsend; How To Build Modern Kitchen Cabinets, Gunerman; How To Choose, Plan, Equip And Decorate Kitchens, Wheeler; The Kitchen Book, Hawkins; Living On The Level, Willis.

Early Registration

All mothers who wish to enter a three, four or five year old in the Little Listener groups to be formed at the Memorial Hall Library this fall are asked to pre-register as soon as possible. Slips for registration are available at either the main desk or in the children's room. Early registration will make it possible for mothers to select the group in which the child will be placed, so that neighbors will be able to provide transportation for the children, if they wish.

The usual opening time is October, but due to the state of the building program this may be postponed, but will be announced. Mothers are asked to consider whether or not they would like to take part in a discussion group, held at the same hour as the children's story program.

It is the aim of the Little Listener program to help a child develop a social attitude toward other children; to help him learn to listen, to pretend, to share in small activities and to find the joy of good books. It has been noted that children who have had similar pre-school experience adjust well to kindergarten and first grade in many ways.

Miss Margaret Lane, Children's librarian, conducts the storyhour. In Ballardvale Mrs. Shirley Ackerman leads the group for that community. Those who plan to enter the Ballardvale group do not need to pre-register.

May Not Use Lot To Park Vehicles

The Zoning Board of Appeals has turned down a request by Siegfried E. Baer that he be allowed to rent daytime parking space to Raytheon employees on his property at Carlisle st. and Filter Bed rd.

Mr. Baer has garages there that are rented to residents of the area, and he asked to be allowed to park 16 cars in the driveways during the day.

Objection from residents centered around the possible traffic problems that might be created on the narrow streets, and to this being an unlawful extension of a non-conforming use.

The Board agreed that the daytime parking would be a commercial enterprise, not in process when the zoning law went into effect. Thus, it ruled, the parking would be an illegal extension of the present non-conforming use.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago - August, 1910

The A. P. Richardson estate on Park st., which was sold at public auction last Saturday, was purchased by Otis Keith of Elm st. The amount of $4,000 was bid for the property. Extensive repairs, both inside and outside, are now underway.

The Andover Cricket Club will have as their opponents in the Merrimack Valley League Fixture tomorrow afternoon, at the home grounds, the Mohairs of Lowell.

The Andover Natural History Society will hold a field day at the rifle range tomorrow. Those who attend will take the 2:10 p.m. electric car to Frye Village. A basket lunch will be enjoyed.

On Tuesday evening, the newly-elected I.O.G.T. officers were installed. They include G. T. Roscoe, K. Cole; V. T., Bella Adams; Sec., John W. Richardson; Treas., Robert Auchterlonie; F. S., A. Lincoln Cates; M., George Keith; pianist, Mrs. Alex Valentine.

Many new teachers will be found in the schools this September. A number of teachers resigned their positions and accepted new ones elsewhere. The greatest care and thought has been used in selecting the new teachers.

A small display advertisement this week announces that the Andover Steam Laundry has a horse for sale. A short news item elsewhere in the paper notes that the Laundry purchased a four-ton vehicle.

25 Years Ago - August, 1935

Five new teachers have been appointed to the Phillips Academy faculty, thus bringing the total faculty to 71 - its highest peak. The school will open Sept. 17.

Three breaks were reported to police this week - but the only loss was suffered by one resident who claimed that the thieves made themselves a lunch when they broke into a camp on Foster's Pond.

A distraught West Andover mother, convinced that her four-year-old son was at the bottom of a well on the family property, was forcibly prevented from jumping into the well last Wednesday afternoon. The lad was found shortly afterwards about half a mile from home. Scouts and many volunteers were searching nearby woods when the boy walked out onto the street.

The most popular playground pet at the show held at the summer playground this year turned out to be "Oscar" - a monkey entered by Irene Hoyer. The animal is owned by M. Laurence Shields of the Phillips Academy faculty.

Plans for the Italian street carnival are progressing nicely. The November Club will sponsor the event later this summer.

10 Years Ago - August, 1950

In preparation for the opening of the Veteran's Housing project, the Andover Housing Authority has appointed Edward Manning, 185 Main st., as the maintenance man. The veterans who have been allocated space in the project will be notified soon as to when they can move in.

West Andover residents in the area west of Haggett's Pond have petitioned the Selectmen, requesting that they be taken from the Lowell postal district and become part of the Andover postal district. The petition was referred to the postal authorities. The residents claim there is much confusion because they live in Andover yet are receiving their mail via the Lowell RFD.

The Andover Hand Tub Association, with the small hand tub "Atlantic", given to the department a while ago by H. Bradford Lewis, made its initial appearance Saturday in a competition in North Andover. The locals were last in Division B, for smaller tubs, while throwing a stream of water 153 feet, 5 1/4 inches. The tub is entered in the muster in Ipswich Saturday, and volunteers are needed to help with it.

Building continued at its brisk pace during July, with new construction estimated at $143,200 and about $7,400 in additions and alterations. The total value of permits issued this year is now $1,049,400.

The same afternoon, from 1:55 to 2:55, police counted 44 cars and 11 trucks going east and 48 cars and 10 trucks headed west.

The area is not thickly settled, the report stated, and the basic speed law of 40 mph would prevail.

Police Chief David L. Nicoll recommended that the police patrol be increased and the signs added.

DRISCOLL - WALSH

Saturday, Aug. 6, at an 11 o'clock nuptial Mass in St. Augustine's Church, Miss Dorothy Ann Walsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Augustine Walsh, became the bride of Arthur Charles Driscoll, son of Mrs. Cornelius Joseph Driscoll of Staten Island, N. Y. and the late Mr. Driscoll. The Rev. John J. Glynn O.S.A. of Tulsa, Oklahoma, a cousin of the bride, officiated. Joseph M. Walsh, the bride's uncle, and Mrs. Mark McConiskey, were soloists. Miss Mary Lanigan presided at the organ. Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of pure silk organza with re-embroidered lace, a sabrina neckline, fitted bodice and short shirred sleeves. The floor length skirt terminated in a full chapel train. Her imported veil of illusion was attached to a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a missal marked with a white orchid and stephanotis and ivy.

MRS. ARTHUR C. DRISCOLL

Miss Anne Marie Walsh was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Jane M. Walsh, Miss Eleanor M. Walsh, sisters of the bride, Miss Ellen M. Walsh, a cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Joseph W. Hendren. They wore identical ballarina dresses of aqua silk organza with silk organza bow headpieces. They carried pastel colored colonial bouquets.

John J. Richardson, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was the best man. The ushers were George A. Driscoll, brother of the bridegroom, Carl A. Steuarnagel, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Robert A. Walsh Jr., William J. Walsh, the bride's brothers, and Carl A. Steuarnagel Jr., the bridegroom's nephew.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Walsh choose a dress, pure silk champagne with pink accessories. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a dress of light blue nylon over taffeta with white accessories.

Following a reception at the Merrimack Valley Country Club, Mr. and Mrs. Driscoll left for an extended trip through Canada and New York State.

Mrs. Driscoll was graduated from St. Patrick's High School and Bridgewater Teachers College. She is a teacher in the North Reading School system. Mr. Driscoll graduated from Port Richmond High, Staten Island, N. Y., and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. He is an electrical engineer at Raytheon in Andover.

On return from their wedding trip, the couple will make their residence at 47 Carmel rd.

Mrs. Robert E. Adams, the former Dorothy Brearley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brearley of Hampton Beach, N. H., whose wedding took place this month at the Free Christian Church.

Ray Doyle Took
5-Week Canoe Trip

Ray Doyle of Chandler rd. recently returned from a five-week canoe trip from Moosehead Lake, Maine, to Fort Kent, Me.

The trip is usually referred to as the Allegash trip, consisted of paddling through many lakes and rivers which constitute the last wilderness area in New England. The group were very fortunate in that they were able to see numerous moose, deer and other wild animals in their natural habitat. The fishing and scenery in this area probably cannot be equalled in any other part of New England, yet it is slowly being threatened by the inevitable wads of civilization.

Other men who made the trip with Mr. Doyle were Neil Fleming and George Powers of Skowhegan, Me., and Arthur Eastman of Rockwood, Me., who acted as guide. Mr. Doyle left Monday for Norridgewalk, Me., where he will spend the remainder of the summer at Camp Wilderness.

Ray Doyle Took Week Canoe Trip

Ray Doyle of Chandler rd. recently returned from a five-week canoe trip from Moosehead Lake,
Maine, to Fort Kent, Me.
The trip is usually referred to as the Allegash trip, consisted of paddling through many lakes and rivers which constitute the last wilderness area in New England.
The group were very fortunate in that they were able to see numerous moose, deer and other wild animals in their natural habitat.
The fishing and scenery in this area probably cannot be equalled any other part of New England, and it is slowly being threatened by the inevitable wads of civilization. Other men who made the trip were Mr. Doyle's Neil Fleming, George Powers of Skowhegan, and Arthur Eastman of Rockland, Me., who acted as guide.

Mr. Doyle left Monday for Edgewalk, Me., where he will lead the remainder of the summer camp wilderness.

Rec. League Beat Jr. League

In an exhibition baseball game at the Playstead Monday evening the Andover Recreation League All-Stars topped the Andover Junior League team by a 6-1 score behind the three-hit pitching of Kevin Lynch. Extra-base wallop for the winners were contributed by Lynch, Rick Abbott and Jim Early.

Board, felt it would be too hasty to sign land taking notices only to find that this is an improper course of action.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff called the Board's attention to the necessity for speed - and suggested that if there is any doubt about this piece of land being taken that proper school officials should be notified. He also pointed out that this parcel of land was specified by the School Committee for an elementary school, and nothing to the contrary has been heard from the School Committee.

Another legal technicality concerning the property need not stand in the way of the eminent domain proceedings, according to Mr. Duff. He said Town Counsel O'Brien has been unable to establish a clear title to the property, and that proper land court designation will be required following the taking.

He saw this as no impediment to the taking process, however. Duff said written and oral evidence of ownership could be accepted by the court, and there was some suggestion that the Noyes family could be of assistance in that regard. There would be an additional cost of approximately $1,000 to handle the land court registration, however.

During the discussion Mr. Duff said the School Building Committee had walked over the site, but had decided not to have any borings taken at this time.

He pointed out that a tentative timetable for the Committee indicates the need to choose an architect in September, and that the choice will naturally want to proceed then to examine the site.
